George Hamlin and Frank Nicholson returned yesterday from a trip to the Buckhorn mine, located under the brow of Superstition mountain. There is now an eighty foot shaft upon it, developing a strong ledge with about twenty-seven inches of ore that will average 10 per cent in copper and $10 per ton in gold. The ore is free fluxing, bearing in itself nearly all the lime and from needed for

The simple announcement that the active members of the Ladies Social Circle of the Baptist church will serve dinner and supper, Tuesday next, October 7, is enough to give these hard workers a busy day. A fine lot of specimens were brought in, yesterday, from the Buckhorn mountains, in Castle Creek district, about fifty-five miles from Phoenix. The ore is and assays high in gold. The ledge from which it is obtained was found only about six months ago, and it is now completely covered with locations. about two feet in thickness, but of high and uniform richness. Six arastras, run by the Mexican owners of the mines, are running steadily and several thou-sand dollars have been cleaned up within the last two months.

Preliminary arrangements have been completed and, as soon as the mechanics can do the work, the third story of the Monihon block will be fitted up for society purposes. There will be a lodge room, 38x67 feet in size, besides ample provision for ante rooms, retiring rooms, closets, etc. The work will be hand-somely done and will cost nearly $4000. The floor has been leased for a term of years by the Masons, who will share it with the Odd Fellows, Workmen, Knights of Pythias and Grand Army of the Republic, W. H. McGinnis, the architect, expects that the hall will be ready for occupancy December 1.
